King Conservation District public election for board supervisor set for Thursday, March 19

Thirteen polling locations across King County

RENTON— The King Conservation District (King CD) will hold a public election for board supervisor on Thursday, March 19, with thirteen polling locations across King County.

Candidates who completed eligibility and nomination petition forms by the March 4 deadline and will appear on the ballot include Preston Drew and David Mauk, both of Carnation. Mark Sollitto, of Seattle, has announced that he is launching a write-in campaign for the position as well. For background and a list of polling locations and hours, visit www.kingcd.org.

Registered voters who reside within King County are eligible to vote in the election, with the exception of residents of cities that do not fall within the King CD's boundaries (Federal Way, Enumclaw, Skykomish, Milton and Pacific). Voters must present proper identification, such as a driver's license, passport or birth certificate.

King CD, working with Bellevue-based election administrator Election Trust, will be introducing the use of secure remote electronic voting technology at two of the thirteen polling locations: the downtown branch of the Seattle Public Library and the King County Library/Carnation Branch. The eVote kiosk system provides end-to-end encrypted and auditable balloting. Voters at these polling locations can also opt to vote on a paper ballot.

The all-volunteer, five member board includes three elected members and two who are appointed by the Washington State Conservation Commission. All supervisors serve three-year terms. The board of supervisors conducts regular public meetings to oversee the district's budget and provide guidance and oversight to district staff.

The King CD provides information and technical assistance programs that are available to all landowners within the district's boundaries (most of King County) on a voluntary, non-regulatory basis. The district provides grants for conservation-focused projects and programs, and initiates community outreach activities that include workshops, education programs, site visits, farm plans, and consultation on land, water, and wildlife management.

As one of 47 conservation districts in the state, the King CD is a natural resources assistance agency authorized by the State of Washington and guided by the Washington State Conservation Commission. The election is held in accordance with Washington Revised Code RCW 89.08.
