Voting ends tomorrow (March 15) for milestone internet-based King Conservation District election; district offers one-day “in-person” voting option in Renton

RENTON— Voting in the King Conservation District (King CD) internet-based election for board of supervisor position #2 concludes tomorrow (March 15) with online and “in-person” voting ending at 9 pm.

Candidates include Douglas “Bruce” Elliott, Kent; Teri Herrera, Redmond; Eric K. Nelson, Duvall; and Preston Prudente of Sammamish.

Online voter applicants who have received an emailed confirmation of voter eligibility may vote online. The King CD is also providing an “in-person” voting option between 9 am and 9 pm Tuesday at the district’s offices located at 1107 SW Grady Way in Renton.

Individuals registered to vote in King County (excluding residents of cities that are not members of the King Conservation District: Enumclaw, Federal Way, Milton, Pacific and Skykomish) are eligible to vote.

In one of the first elections of its kind in the U.S., the online election provides registered voters in King County with the convenience of voting from home, business or other computer locations.

The King CD encompasses most of King County and delivers natural resources information and technical and funding assistance for stewardship efforts by landowners. It is one of 46 conservation districts in Washington State.

King CD has retained election supervisor Election Trust (Bellevue) and Scytl USA (Washington, DC) to manage and conduct the election process.

King CD board members serve voluntary, three-year terms

The all-volunteer, five-member board includes three elected members and two appointed by the Washington State Conservation Commission. All supervisors serve three-year terms. As public officials, their responsibility is to ensure that the King CD meets its legal and public trust obligations. The board of supervisors conducts regular public meetings to oversee the district’s budget and provide policy guidance and oversight to district staff.

About the King CD

The King CD provides information and funding and technical assistance to landowners within the district's boundaries on a voluntary, non-regulatory basis. King CD programs are hands-on, site specific, action and results oriented; and the district initiates community outreach activities that include workshops, education programs, site visits, farm plans, and consultation on land, water, and wildlife management.
